More, more, more! According to Boeing they occupied adjacent parcels 0423049186, 189, and 190 between 1981 and 2001. They call it Oxbow Corporate Park and say it was used for office space and parts manufacturing. Another adjacent parcel, 0423049073, was used between 1990 and 1995 for offices and parking for "Licensed Transportation."

There still more- our old hazardous waste reports shows the site was a large quantity generator of material consistent with machining parts as recent as 1995. It is entirely possible that the geographical location is in error. There's not a lot of haz waste inspectors left around here that may have visited the facility.

Rick,

But wait! There's more. The news link below refers to an organizational element, not a location. In the Boeing 104e, parcel 0423049150 refers to the "Boeing Employees Activity Center" which Boeing claims to have occupied and used since 1987. Make use of this info as you see fit. I don't think the D&SG label applies here.

It is Defense & Space Group. I don't know/understand the connection between D&SG and that particular location. Here is a link to a news release from Boeing that defines the abbreviation.
